Transform your home inside and out

Whether it’s a fresh coat of paint or a full renovation, making improvements is always a smart move.

Russia says Wagner Group’s leader will move to Belarus after his rebellious march challenged Putin

The head of the private Russian military company Wagner will move to neighboring Belarus as part of deal to defuse rebellion tensions and the criminal case against him will be closed, the Kremlin said Saturday.

The boy who broke the greasy pole

Derek Hopkins spent his childhood training to be a Gloucester greasy pole champion like his father. Now, at just 22, he’s an undefeated four-time champion, and some say the best to ever do it. Others say all that practicing is cheating.

THE GREAT DIVIDE

‘She was lying about something’: Burke students recall the woman who posed as a student for months

The woman’s Burke classmates said she kept changing details of her story.

DAN SHAUGHNESSY

Getting Bob Cousy’s take on a busy week for the Celtics, and other thoughts

The 94-year-old Celtics legend reflected on Marcus Smart, Kristaps Porzingis, Derrick White, and other topics.

SUNDAY BASEBALL NOTES

With baseball’s trade deadline just five weeks away, there aren’t many sellers

This deadline could be defined by how many times playoff contenders can match up with each other to make mutual improvements.

Controversy shrouds Boston Latin Academy

Head of School Gavin Smith, a onetime finalist for state teacher of the year, has generated a firestorm at the highly regarded exam school over his zeal for change and other issues.

CHAD FINN

Celtics must address the fact that they traded their best passer in Marcus Smart

Retooling the roster is fine, but the big improvement has to come in the way the Celtics play, and they are overdue for a lesson in ball movement.

SUNDAY HOCKEY NOTES

Might the rebuilding Blackhawks be good trade partners for the cap-strapped Bruins?

This past season’s all-in charge has the Bruins with some $5 million in cap space and about half of a lineup under contract.

Police say detective was involved in tawdry love triangle with informant and alleged drug trafficker

The story about an alleged drug trafficker, a detective, and a woman caught in the middle, seemed outlandish. Now, though, New Bedford police are acknowledging the claims have merit.
